Randolph High School

A Senior Publication

Randolph, Massachusetts

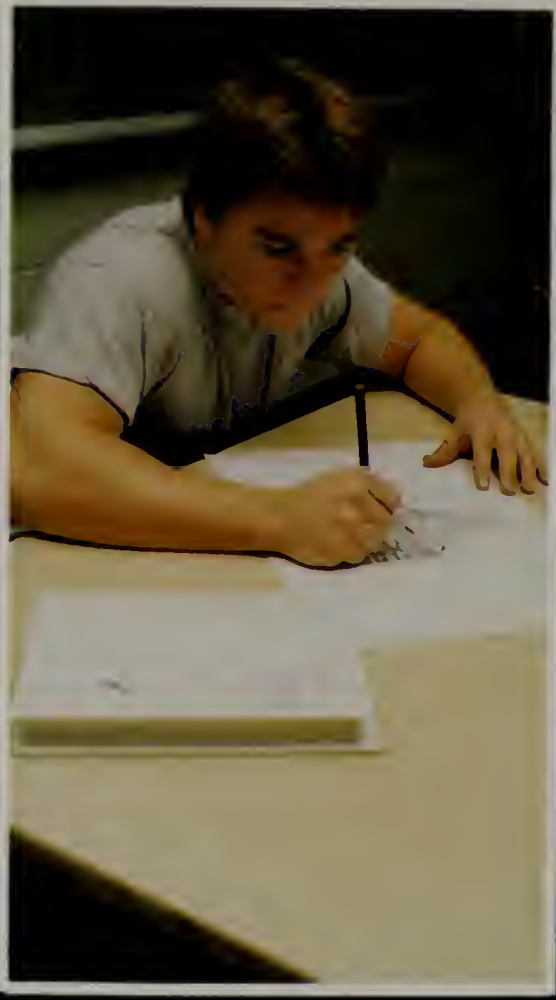

As we enter into a new decade, we find before us a world filled with promise; a world filled with opportunity, and a world filled with challenge. For most of us, our dreams could become realities. For all of us, the ways and means to achieve success are available. Therefore, we must work with determination and with seriousness. Complacency must not be for us! Are we ready to assume this responsibility?

In our lifetime, we have seen dramatic advances made in science, in medicine, and in education. Man has travelled through space, and he has explored the Moon. Cures for diseases have been developed. Education is available to all regardless of race, creed, or ethnic origin. The ballot box is no longer reserved for a privileged few. Television and the Cinema have broadened our horizons. We have seen history being made. However, we have seen war; we have seen poverty, and we have seen racial and political repression. Our success will not only be measured by position, by title, or by dollars and cents. It will also be measured by our contributions to our society! We will continue going even further with those advances those before us have brought forth? Will we strive to create peace among nations and among people? Are we ready to assume this responsibility?

As we enter into a new decade, we must make a decision. Should we be satisfied with the least when the best is possible? Should we regress to isolationism by focusing on our own self-interests? Should we struggle for the ideal in which all will be successful and lead a more meaningful life? The graduates of 1980 must decide, FOR WE ARE THE FUTURE!
